

SALT LAKE ELKS' ANNUAL EXCURSION

Arrangements for Big Trip to Los Angeles Are About Completed.

At a meeting of the Los Angeles excursion committee, held at the Elks' club last night, details for the annual excursion were completed and an army of the antlered herd will leave Salt Lake Saturday night, February 5, in three special trains for the annual vacation in southern California.

Secretary Raybould has been to Los Angeles, arranging the side trips, and his report last night showed that details at the other end of the line were arranged in perfect order. The three trains will leave here Saturday night, February 5, over the Salt Lake route, and will arrive in San Bernardino Monday morning, where a reception will be held. The visitors will be enabled to inspect the town and then the train will move on to Riverside, where there will be another reception.

On Monday afternoon the Elks will arrive at Los Angeles. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday there will be side trips to the various points of interest, and Friday the Elks will make an attack upon Catalina.

One of the most pleasant affairs arranged for the coming excursion will be the side trip to San Diego and to the Juana, Mexico. At the Mexican city the Elks will see a bull fight.

Nearly 100 Elks will branch away from the larger party Thursday night to go to Honolulu by way of San Francisco. Arrangements have been completed for this trip, as well as all the others, and the Hawaiian trip will be one of the big features of the excursion. Reservations will be made aboard ship through the local office of Elks.

AMERICAN FORK HAS NO SMALLPOX CASES

Through misconstruction of a phrase in a letter written by an American Fork physician to Dr. T. B. Beatty, superintendent of the state board of health, the statement was made that that bustling town was rocking with smallpox. The exact reverse is true. American Fork has as little or less disease at the present time than any other town in Utah of its size and importance, and this is generally true of American Fork. It is regrettable that the mistake should have been made.

REHEARSALS POSTPONED

Salt Lake Choral Society Yields to Rush of Christmas Season.

Owing to the rush of the Christmas season and the fact that so many events will occur within the next few weeks to interfere with its work, the Salt Lake Choral society will postpone rehearsals until the first Tuesday in January. This action is thought best in order that the full membership may be in attendance when the active rehearsing begins on the "Elijah," which is to be rendered early in February.

In the meantime, the work of preparing the programs for the big "Music day" festival will go on in order that the full plans may be announced when the chorus again takes up the work after the new year. Negotiations are

DRESSING IN AN ICE WAGON

M "The Top o' th' World" company and their unique dressing room.

THE opening of a new theatre signifies much for the fortunate attraction nowadays, as it means a complete sell-out of all the seats at a premium, and the people pack the theatre with all available standing room; and in a town of any consequence it is good for at least $2,000 for the fortunate attraction.

But with few exceptions, theatres are dedicated before they are finished, and the accompanying photograph shows the straits the male members of "The Top o' th' World" company were obliged to undergo early in August, this year, when they opened the new $30,000 Army theatre at Binghamton, N. Y. As usual, the last thing that was attended to was the dressing rooms, and when the company arrived they repaired to the theatre, only to find that portion of the house "back of the lights" early behindhand.

A hasty glance at the dressing rooms showed only six were habitable, and these were allotted to the women, but what to do with the men was beginning to be a serious problem, when Fred Bailey suggested that they get a large covered ice wagon, draw it up to the stage door and dress there. The idea was successfully carried out, as wires were run from the theatre to the ice wagon, which, with curtains at each end, was pressed into service. Fortunately, the night was red hot and the stunt worked to a charm, but it was amusing to see the actors ready for the stage walk out of the ice wagon to the stage door and then play their parts. An exact reproduction of the photograph in oil now adorns the handsome lobby of the Army theatre, Binghamton, N. Y.

WOMEN PASSENGERS IN THE STEERAGE VILELY TREATED

found standing on the framework of a lower berth to get anything from an upper berth. If a woman was dressing they always stopped to watch her, and frequently hit and handled her.

One night the chief steward steward entered our compartment, but, not noticing me, approached a Polish girl, who was apparently the only occupant. She spoke in Polish, saying: "My head aches. Please go on and let me alone." But he continued, and soon was insulting her. The girl, weakened by seasickness, defended herself as best she could, but soon was struggling to get out of the man's arms. Just then other passengers entered and he released her.

The writer tells of repelling advances on the part of the crew and stewards with a hard, unexpected blow in the offender's face. She says:

"Revolting Practices.

"The manner in which the sailors, stewards, firemen and others mingled with the women passengers was thoroughly revolting. Their language and the tones of their conversation were vile. Their comments about the women, and made in their presence, were coarse."

Concerning other conditions in the old type of steerage, which still exists on many steamships, agents of the commission are just as severe. In the introduction to the report it is stated:

"The universal needs of space, air, food, sleep and privacy are recognized to the degree now made compulsory by law. Beyond that, the persons carried are looked upon as so much freight, with no mere transportation as their only due."

Filthy Sleeping Quarters.

The sleeping quarters are described as being in many cases filthy, inadequate and all that is bad.

Good conditions are described in connection with investigations of some steamships and it is declared that competition was the most important factor that led to the development of the improved type of steerage.

No woman with the smallest degree of modesty, and with no other conveniences than a washroom used jointly with men and a faucet of cold salt water, could clean amidst such surroundings for twelve days and more, the report says. It was forbidden to bring water for washing purposes into the sleeping compartments, nor was there anything in which to bring it.

Senator Dillingham, chairman of the immigration commission, introduced in the senate today two bills intended to correct much of the evil by which the complaint is made.

RUNAWAY BOY CAUGHT.

Attempt to Escape From the Uintah Training School.

Because they have repeatedly run away from the Uintah training school and broken the rules which govern the boys at this institution, Thomas Borden, 14 years old, and James Brooks, colored, aged 15, were yesterday committed to the state industrial school at Ogden by Judge Alexander McMaster of the juvenile court.

The boys were caught early Monday morning by Probation Officer Charles Sperry while about to board a freight train and leave Salt Lake. They had broken away from the training school Saturday and spent Saturday and Sunday nights in the press room of a morning paper, to escape the cold and the juvenile court officers.

BREAKS INTO JAIL FOR A SEASON OF COMFORT

In keeping with boasts that he would break into the county jail and spend the winter in peace and comfort, Fred Llewellyn, arrested for disturbing the peace at Alta, shortly after the threat, was yesterday ordered to pay a fine of $5 by Justice F. M. Bishop. Llewellyn told the police that it was entirely out of the question to raise $5, and asked that he be committed to jail.

Llewellyn attacked two Greeks, Lathro and David Penrod, and started in on A. L. Jacobson, more formidable adversary, at the boarding house of the Columbus Consolidated. With a sweep of his arm Llewellyn sent Lathro into a heap of snow. Regardless of a severe punning, he listened intently when those in charge of the boarding house telephoned for Deputy Sheriff Al Paulsen. The latter found but little difficulty in placing Llewellyn under arrest.

as a member of the Central American court of justice that Salvador and Guatemala intended to stir up war. These representations later were found by Secretary Root to be without foundation.

A dispatch today from Dr. Guerra, Nicaraguan representative of the revolutionists in Costa Rica, to Senor Castillo confirms President Zelaya's intention to make Madriz president of Nicaragua. Dr. Guerra declares that Zelaya's intentions are for "further motives of domination."

The attitude of the Mexican government in regard to Dr. Madriz is not known.

General Estrada says in his cablegram today that the revolutionists are still ruling with a firm hand. The president of the republic and that nothing will swerve them from their object.

Reign of Terror.

San Salvador, Salvador, Dec. 12.—The reign of terror continues at Managua, the capital of Nicaragua. President Zelaya is ruling with a firm hand. The political offenders, real and suspected, crowd the jails. The government's allowance for the food of these prisoners is absurdly small, and as a result many are half-starved. The routine of their prison existence is broken by beatings, which the authorities order from time to time for such of the prisoners as have gained the displeasure of the ruling power. The men in chains number several hundred.

Statement of Zelaya's Consul.

Berlin, Dec. 12.—J. W. Pein, Nicaraguan consul general at Berlin, today issued a statement to the public saying: "The whole of Nicaragua has just declared the treason of Estrada and has declared for President Zelaya. Some of the revolutionary leaders have already left Estrada's flag and sought safety abroad. The government troops will quickly restore order."

Marines Under Orders.

New York, Dec. 12.—At the marine barracks in the navy yard here today they were preparing 150 marines for their start tomorrow for Philadelphia, presumably to board the transport Prairie at the League Island navy yard and sail for Nicaragua. The withdrawal of these men leaves but fifty marines in the barracks, just enough for regulation guard duty.

Warships at Corinto.

Corinto, Nicaragua, Dec. 12.—The United States gunboat Yorktown and the projected cruiser Albany arrived here today from Magdalena bay.

Wants His Boy's Body.

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 12.—D. K. Cannon, father of Leroy Cannon, sent a letter to President Taft today asking him to use all his efforts to have the body of young Cannon, who was slain in Nicaragua, recovered and sent home for burial.

Transferred His Property.

Panama, Dec. 12.—Steamship passengers who have arrived from Nicaragua report that Zelaya has transferred all his property to foreigners.

without a peer and exhibits in one glow of association harmony the pride of every model and the perfection of every master.

Infamous in Private Life.

"I have been reliably informed that the vices of his private life are more infamous in their indescribable details than the iniquities of his public career. Such a creature as this deserves the execration of mankind."

"Now, as the culminating infamy of his administration, trampling upon every instinct of humanity, in violation of universal law, in defiance of those precepts of the international code that have been recognized ever since the night of barbarism receded before the rays of civilization, he has put to torture, and then to death, two American citizens who were not guilty of treason, who were not spies, but whom he had captured as prisoners of war in the army of the revolutionists.

Indemnity Not Wanted.

"It is absolutely preposterous for us to talk about indemnity. Indemnity is no recompense for murder. It is said we ought to break off official communication with his accredited representatives. We have already done that, and that amounts to nothing, and is a matter of absolute unconcern to him."

"Then it is said we ought to declare war against Nicaragua. I think that is unnecessary."

"This government is a cowardly government if it does not make an example of Zelaya before the eyes of the civilized world. This case will not admit of any trifling or concessions. If two American citizens have been murdered by Zelaya, then he must be made to pay the penalty of his crime."

"Once spread before the American people the details of the execution, and our people will rise in arms and demand retribution. They have not yet fully absorbed the significance of this deed."

Tyrant Must Be Punished.

"If Zelaya had the right to sentence these men to death and execute them in cold blood, then we must acknowledge that right and recognize before the nations of the world. If he did not have that right, this government is his accuser; and if he is guilty, he must be awarded the doom and fate that he deserves, so that every tyrant on this earth in every nationality under the sun, and in every government, large or small, and especially these dictators in several of these Central American states who have received every favor and consideration at the hands of the United States, to whom has been extended the official hospitality of our army, and who in return therefor have exhibited to us at times the bitterest hatred and visited upon our citizens the most cruel indignities and outrages, shall be told once and forever that our flag follows our citizens wherever they go, and that when an assassination like this occurs the malefactor must take his place like any other culprit at the bar of criminal justice and must answer for the deed with his liberty or his life."

The resolution which he offered was not a declaration of war, said Senator Rayburn. He desired that his resolution be considered a separate proposition from any action that might be taken with reference to the state of government existing in Nicaragua.
